Norg.—A few points of difference between the number of matriculation students in this table and in Table 129 are due to difficulty in assigning certain students by St. Dunstan's, St. Xavier, Acadia and McMaster. These students evidently did work both of matriculation and University Standard. Fr.

Nore.—In the cases of three universities, viz.: Queen's, McMaster and Saskatchewan, the students by provinces of residence represent only a portion of the total registration, viz. full time students. For this reason the students from outside the province are probably understated in the case of these universities. The last column is intended to correct the worst feature-ofthis understatement.

Nore—Dans les universités Queen's, McMaster et Saskatchewan, les étudiants par provinces et domiciles ne représentent que les étudiants réguliers. Pour cette raison, les étudiants en dehors de leur province sont probablement plus nombreux que ceux mentionnés. La dernière colonne sert à corriger les différences qui pourraient résulter de cette diminution.

If we assume that these were regular Arts 4,667 in matriculation courses and 2,608 in <sup>1</sup>Presumably from this course 2,437 students in Arts have already been included with the students of Laval and Montreal universities, students and the balance of the 7.104 where pre-naticulation students, we have in the classical colleges 2,437 in work of university stand rd, other courses. This information is thus in the same form as that obtained for the colleges of other previnces. III est probable que 2,437 élèves de la faculté des arts ont déjà été comptés parmi les étudiants des universités Laval et Montréal. Si on les considère comme étudiants en arts, le reste, 7.141, se préparant à la matriculation nois avons, dans les collèges elssiques, 2,437 élèves dans les degrés universitaires; 4,667 dans le cours de matriculation et 2,608 dans d'autres cours. Norg.—It is impossible to state how many of the 718 students in these colleges are of university standard. Consequently in the general summing up of colleges they must be left as unspecified.

Nora,—II est impossible de dire combien de ces 718 étudiants sont dans les degrés universitaires. C'est pourquoi il est impossible de les classifier dans le résumé général des collèges.

N.B.—Library training is also given in the normal schools at Hamilton, London, North Bay, Ottawa, Peterborough, Stratford and Toronto. Several of the larger libraries in Canada conduct what are termed "apprentice classes", in order to have a group of trained assistants to call upon in an emergency.

CANADIAN LIBRARY COMMISSIONS

A Library Commission is a body organized for the purpose of assisting libraries or establishing new ones in the territory under its supervision. It may act independently as a Department or Branch of a Department of the Provincial Government or it may act through one of the universities. The assistance is likely to include lending book-collections or single books, and sometimes goes no further. In the latter instance the Library Commission assumes the form of a Travelling Libraries System. Often, however, the aid given includes the recommendation of grants from the Provincial Treasury if it is felt that the local effort for library extension is worthy of financial aid, and also includes direction in any matters of library administration.

Travelling libraries have been in use in Nova Scotia, under the Yarmouth Public Library since about 1900. The Provincial Science Library, at Halifax, has for many years lent b oks throughout a wide territory, and the same has been true of the Amherst Library, begun by the late Mr. Lay, for whom the present Library is a memorial. A list of Canadian library commissions is given below.

CANADIAN LIBRARY LEGISLATION

INTRODUCTION

Public Library Legislation.—With the exception of New Brunswick all the provinces and the Yukon Territory have some form of public library legislation. In the older provinces the earliest legislation was for the establishment or incorporation of mechanics' institutes and library associations, the mechanics' institutes being patterned after those of the British Isles, which have had an important history. The first province to have a Free Libraries Act was Ontario. All of the four western provinces appear to have used this act as a model in legislating for public library promotion. In these acts a special library tax is stipulated; the number and personnel of the library board and their term of service indicated; the frequency of meetings stated; special meetings provided for; the date of the annual meeting set; the number of members constituting a quorum indicated, also the details covered by the yearly estimates and the annual report. Provision is also made for dissolution of a library in certain circumstances. The new Public Libraries Act of British Columbia, by which the Public Library Commission was established, was drawn up independently of the Public Libraries Acts of the other provinces, and at the same time leaving certain details, included by the other provinces, to be specified in the by-laws of individual libraries.

In Ontario and British Columbia special provision has been made for the activities of the travelling library service. In Ontario and Saskatchewan the administration of the Public Libraries Act is under the Department of Education. In Prince Edward Island and in the Yukon legislation has been enacted for the libraries of specified cities or towns. The laws of the Yukon, British Columbia, Saskatchewan and Alberta make provision for the erection or improvement of public library buildings.

The Mechanics' and Literary Institutes Act of Alberta was repealed in 1924. In 1926 the circulating libraries of Ontario were placed under the jurisdiction of the Department of Education.

School Libraries.—One of the earliest records of library legislation found is in connection with school libraries, in 1850. There is some type of legislation for school libraries in every province and in the Yukon. In Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick the provisions of the acts are practically identical, specifying grants from the Board of Education. Schools in Nova Scotia, Quebec, Alberta and British Columbia are entitled to receive provincial aid for their libraries. Local aid is also required for school libraries in Nova Scotia and British Columbia, and is provided for in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and the Yukon.

Legislative Libraries and Law Libraries.—The legislative libraries of Nova Scotia and Quebee, and the Provincial Library of Manitoba were established by the acts for that specific purpose. A clause relating to the staff of the Ontario Legislative Library is inserted in the statute law quoted in the following article. The Provincial Library Act of Manitoba was repealed by the act establishing the Department of the Library and Museum. The Legislative Library and Bureau of Statistics Act of British Columbia also established a government department. There were acts which established the law libraries at Fredericton and Winnipeg and the Advocates' Libraries at Montreal and Quebec and the Quebec Library.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

The Public Libraries of Prince Edward Island have been established by a separate act for each library, the Charlettetown Library Association, the Summerside Charlettetown: Public Library, and the Grand Tracadie Library Club of Queens County. The Summerside. Charlottetown Library Association Act of 1888 was the earliest of the three. By Grand Tracadie. this act the association was incorporated. A subscription of $50 constituted a life membership until the forming of a Joint Stock Company, with a capital of not more Membership. than $20,000, voting powers of each member of the association being regulated by voting powers. the number of the shares each should hold. The remaining two Acts were passed in 1908. A life membership in the Summerside Free Public Library, Incorporated, is obtained by the payment of $25, an annual membership by the payment of $1, the latter giving a member full privileges for that year. The Act of Incorporation of the Grand Tracadie Library Club permits the Club to make its own by-laws and Appointments.

NOVA SCOTIA

In the Revised Statutes of Nova Scotia of 1884 (c. 81) is an Act dealing with "Library associations and institutes." This Act, which was without amendment until 1905, stated that 10 or more persons having at least $100 in money or property might declare their intention of establishing a library association or institute, or Library both, at some designated place, stating (in the declaration) the proposed name and association or purpose of the organization, the amount subscribed and the names of the trustees, institute.

QUEBEC

In the Statutes of Canada of 1849 (c. 145) there is found the Act to Incorporate the Library Association of the Teachers of the District of Quebec, which included the city of Quebec and vicinity. The act states that the Association had a library and reading-room and held meetings every two months at which lectures and debates were given. Officers and managing committee were provided for, as well as a yearly fee. The annual revenue was not to exceed £100.

The act of 1851 respecting library associations and mechanics' institutes is recorded in the Consolidated Statutes of Canada (c. 72, s. 21) and stated that 10 or more persons having at least $100 in money or property for the use of the institute might file with the Registrar of deeds a declaration of their intention to establish either a mechanics' institute or a library association or both at some specific place, announcing the purpose for creating the organization and stating the names of the proposed trustees, the amount subscribed and certain other details. This act also provided for the incorporation of mechanics' institutes or library associations already existing. In a city or town with a population of more than 3,000, land to the value of $2,000 might be held by the corporation. If the population of city or town were less than 3,000 the land held could be worth $1,000. These amounts were increased by the amendment of 1856 (Can. c. 51) to $2,500 and $1,250 respectively. If the community were not incorporated the land might only be of a value of $400. Provision was made for a fine not greater than $4 for infraction of by-laws by a member or one who had agreed in writing to observe them, this fine to be used by the corporation. A library association and a mechanics' institute might be combined with each other but with no other institution or business. The by-laws might provide for dissolution of the corporation. This act appears in the Revised Statutes of Quebec 1909 (title 8, c. 1). In 1890 (c. 34) an act was passed to authorize city, town and village corporations to aid in support of public libraries in their own or an adjacent municipality, and to aid mechanics' institutes or library associations provided that they should be free.

In the Consolidated Municipal Act of Ontario for 1892 (c. 42, s. 479, ss. 9), there is provision for a by-law for grant of money or land by the council of every county, township, town and incorporated village in aid of any incorporated mechanics' institute or free library established under the Free Libraries Act of 1882 (45 Vic. c. 22; R.S.O. 1887, c. 189). The Public Libraries Act was passed in 1895 (58 Vic. c. 45; R.S.O. 1897, c. 232) and was re-enacted in 1909 (9 Ed. VII, c. 80; R.S.O. 1914, c. 202) when a provision was included for the establishment and maintenance of travelling libraries under the administration of the Minister of Education. In 1916 an amendment was made to include provision for a township library board. An amendment of 1919 (9 Geo. V, c. 25, s. 26-29) increased the public library rate from a maximum of \(^{\frac{3}{2}}\) of a mill to one mill on the dollar. In 1920 the Public Libraries Act was consolidated and amended (10-11 Geo. V, c. 69); in 1925 (15 Geo. V, c. 63), an amending act provided for a retiring allowance or gratuity for any employee not to exceed his last three years' salaries combined, should he be compelled by age or ill-health to give up his position; and also for the establishment by by-law in cities of over 50,000 population, of a pension or life insurance fund or both for employees, with or without contributions from them to such a fund. By an amendment of 1926 (16 Geo. V, c. 56), it was decreed that no circulating library might be established except by a religious body or an educational institution without written permission from the Minister of Education, this permission being subject to cancellation at discretion.

The Public Libraries Acts of the Prairie Provinces are founded on the Ontario Act. In Ontario the library board in a city, town or village may consist of nine members, including the mayor or reeve, three members appointed by the council, three appointed by the public school board and two appointed by the separate Board. school board if there is one in the community, each member being appointed for a term of three years, except that at the forming of the board one member of each group shall hold office till the first annual meeting, and one of each group until the second annual meeting or until appointment of successors. The estimates cover Estimates. (a) interest on money borrowed, (b) amount to be raised on the sinking fund, (c) expense of maintenance and management. The public library rate fixed by the Levy. act of 1920 is not to exceed 50 cents per capita of population, except when by a vote of a majority of the council or board this rate is increased to an amount equal to not more than 75 cents per capita. An exception is made in the case of libraries that, previous to January 1, 1917, had made some agreement whereby a gift was received on the condition that not less than a stated amount would be expended for library maintenance. For such a library it is permitted to levy and assess a sufficient rate to provide funds necessary for carrying out the contract as made at that time. The monies levied under the Ontario library rate are received by the treasurer and paid out by order of the board. This act provides for the issue of Debentures. public library debentures by the council, or, on their refusal to do so, the submission to the electors of a by-law for the purpose.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

The Free Libraries Act of British Columbia (1891, c. 20, R.S. 1897, c. 121, R.S. 1911, c. 140) has been superseded by the Public Libraries Act (1919, c. 48, R.S. 1924, c. 141). This act is in five parts, relating respectively to (1) Public Library Commission (2) travelling libraries (3) public library associations (4) municipal public libraries (5) general provisions.
